

39. SWEET, SALTY, SOUR

Welcome song

K: Welcome to our fun learning radio broadcast with Kiki and Mr. Suits!
This program was created in collaboration with Azyzah Educational and Interactive Theatre.

S: Nice to meet you friends!

K: Our question today is from Ríza who is 10 years old from eská Lípa, Czech Republic.

S: Hi, Kiki and Mr. Suits, could you tell us about sweet, salty, and sour foods?

K: Yes! Ready to learn about sweet, salty, and sour?

S: Let's go!

Theme

S: Kiki, I'm feeling puckish. I want to eat something.

K: We have some leftover soup.

S: No, no, no, I don't want soup. I want something yummy, yummy, yummy.

K: We have potato chips.

S: Mm, salty. Yes.

K: Oh ham.

S: Yes.

K: ... cheese, crackers, French fries.

S: Yes, yes, yes! Yum, yum, yum!

K: Mr. Suits, you can't all that! Too much salt is bad for you.

S: Right. . What if I put some sour vinegar on my fries, like in England?

K: Not helpful. But if you want something sour, sour, sour, maybe some lemon juice?

S: Ew, Kiki, gross! I'd rather eat the lemon!

K: Eek! Too sour! How about an orange?

S: No, sometimes oranges are sour too.

K: Yes. But did you know that oranges contain more sugar than watermelons?

S: No way. Watermelons are so sweet, sweet, sweet!

K: It's true. . . Hmm, I could go for something sweet. Watermelon, chocolate candy! Yum, yum, yum!

S: Hahaha, you and your sweet tooth.

K: Well, too much sugar isn't healthy either.

S: It sure isn't. - You know, I'm actually hungry now.

K: Me too!

S: Let's eat that soup. Bon appetit!

K: Friends, what are your favorite sweet, salty or sour foods? Let us know and we can talk about them in a future episode.

Story

S: Woo-hoo! It's story time!

K: Today's story is about two children and a gingerbread house.

Once upon a time, there were two children named Hansel and Gretel. They lived with their father and evil stepmother.

(S) STEPMOM: The children eat too much. Let's take them to the forest and leave them there.

(K) HANSEL: Gretel, I have an idea! Take some bread, we will use the crumbs to find our way back.

(S) STEPMOM: Hurry up! Let's go to the forest!

K: As they walked, Gretel left a trail of breadcrumbs on the ground.

(S) STEPMOM: Stay here. We will come back for you.

K: It got dark, and still the parents did not return. Gretel said

(S) GRETEL: Let's follow the breadcrumb trail. . Oh no, it's gone, animals must have eaten the bread!

(K) HANSEL: I think I see a house! We can spend the night there.

(S) GRETEL: Wow, it's made out of gingerbread!

(K) HANSEL: Gretel, I'm so hungry. Let's take a few bites.

K: But inside the house lived an evil witch. She captured Hansel and Gretel.

(S) WITCH: Haha! I will roast and eat you both! Girl, check the oven. Is it hot enough?

(S) GRETEL: I don't know. Maybe you should check it?

(S) WITCH: Gah, children!

K: The witch leaned into the oven. Hansel and Gretel shoved her in and closed the door.

(K) HANSEL: Let's go home!

K: Back home, they found their father alone. He had sent the evil stepmother away. The three of them lived happily ever after.
